Go (often referred to as Golang) is a programming language designed by Google engineers Robert Griesemer, Rob Pike, and Ken Thompson. Go is statically typed, compiled, and syntactically similar to C, with the added benefits of memory safety, garbage collection, structural typing, and CSP-style concurrency. The compiler, tools, and source code are all free and open source.

Concurrent computing is a form of computing in which several computations are executed during overlapping time periods "concurrently" instead of sequentially (one completing before the next starts). This is a property of a system "this may be an individual program, a computer, or a network" and there is a separate execution point or "thread of control" for each computation ("process").
